Hope Seen For City Hall As New Project Is Filed

WPA INSTEAD OF PWA ASKED TO AID IN $75,000 PLANT

As a WPA project a new effort will be made to get a new Upland city hall. The building recently failed to get a final money allotment as a WPA project, after it had been sanctioned by various officials.

Upland city councilmen last night authorized P. A. Eisen, Los Angeles architect, to apply for a WPA project. The firm of Walker & Eisen, architects, prepared the detailed building plans in anticipation of the PWA approval. Mr. Eisen, who made an urgent plea for immediate action, expressed confidence that the WPA officials will approve the project within three weeks.

City Furnishes Materials

The city will be required to furnish all the materials in the project, the WPA providing all the labor. Mr. Eisen suggested that the city employ a competent building superintendent.

As to the site the councilmen favor the property at D street and Second avenue. After having considered various phases of the matter of location the officials said that the site adjacent to the fire station is better than where the police station is at present.

Sum of $38,000 has been set aside for constuction of a new municipal building. The materials will cost appoximately $31,235. This figure includes construction materials, equipment and furniture. The completed building would have a valuation of approximately $75,000.

Walker & Eisen are preparing plans for the first termers' prison on Euclid avenue, south of Ontaio. When work starts on that structure all available WPA workers in the southland will be used there. That was one reason he urged the council to take immediate steps in asking for a WPA project. An early approval will result in completion of the city hall before work is started on the prison.

Junior Library Is Attractive in Gay Yule Decorations

"Christmasy" is the word to describe the Sarah Temple juinor library just now. A real tree, all decorated, stands on a tabe at one side of the room. On the mantle of the fireplace are some candles and small trees, with silver wreaths above. In order to library-ize Christmas, evidently Santa Claus decided to leave books in every red stocking pinned on the wall. He must think that books are good for children, for there are books for the littlest and books for the older child. Psychologically the idea is good, for the earlier the child is exposed to the book, so to speak, and incidentally to the library, the sooner he will get the idea of reading as a pleasure, and a profitable one at that, not making it a necessary evil as he is apt to do later when he must go to the library with a particular list of books from his teacher, for required reading.

With the stage all set, Miss Elizabeth Wright, children's librarian, is going to tell some Christmas stories at 2 o'clock Saturday and all the children of the community are invited.

Gasoline Contract For Year Given by City to Ray Ford

Bid of Ray R. Ford, Texaco distributor, was accepted by the city council last night for the 1938 supply of gasoline. Price per gallon will be 13.27 cents. The 1937 price is 12½ cents. Sev-price. Since the present contract does not expire until Jan. 1, the city will buy about 10,000 gallons now at the current price.

About 20,000 gallons will be used during the year, leaving about 10,000 gallons to be purchased at the new contract price. The 1937 price is 12¼ cents. Seven other bids for gasoline were received, all being the same but a trifle higher than Ford's figure.

Leslie Standlea Is First in State in Oratorical Contest

Leslie Standlea today has the distinction of being the best orator in the state among the members of the Future Farmers.

He won first place in the annual state contest this week. Ahead of him is a trip to Fort Collins, Colo., where he will represent California in a contest with the winners of 10 other western states. This linguistic contest will be held in the spring. Winner of this event will participate in the national oratorical finals at Kansas City.

This victory climaxes a brilliant career for the Upland student in oratory. He is president of the Chaffey chapter of the Future Farmers and of the Southern California region of the state organization.

"What Chemergy Has to Offer the Farmer" is the subject of his oration. Additional information about the contest is on page six of today's paper.

MORE FOOD NEEDED FOR YULE BASKETS

Additional Contributions of Food and Money Are Being Sought

Shelves built in the Upland chamber of commerce office to handle food donations are far from being filled. And the pantries in the homes of quite a few Upland families will be bare unless additional support is given to "help thy neighbor."

While many persons have placed cans of food and other eatables in baskets at local grocery stores, much more food must be received soon if every local family will have enough food to enjoy a merry Christmas, according to leaders of the Red Cross welfare department.

Matinee at the Upland theatre Wednesday afternoon resulted in many cans of tomatoes and milk being received for the cause.

Some persons have given money. With this financial aid the welfare workers will buy food that will give local families a well-balanced meal. Meat for the dinners will be furnished by the Elks lodge. It is an annual activity on the part of the lodge men to provide food for the financially unfortunate people of the district at this season of the year.

About 30 baskets will be delivered to homes a short time prior to Christmas.

Every possible effort is being made to avoid duplication in the distribution of baskets. All persons or firms expecting to give food to local families are asked to report to the Upland chamber of commerce office. The welfare department of the Red Cross is in close touch with all needy families. When word is received that certain families are being benefited the Red Cross workers will not give to those same families.

Rev. Mandtler Is Lions Club Speaker

Pointing out that modern day polotical movements are prophecied in the Bible, Rev. John P. Mandtler spoke at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house at noon yesterday.

He was introduced by L. A. Fox, program chairman.

Francis Johnson, local representative of the board of education, was inducted as a member of the club by Past President E. C. Rosenberger.

Lincoln Zephyr Is On Display Today

Veeder South and Ellery F. Wright today proudly displayed a 1938 Lincoln Zephyr at the Upland Motor Co. show rooms

The new machine was placed on display today and the two men invited people to see what they claim is "the greatest automotive creation."

First 1938 Baby To Cost Parents Less As Gift Is Offered

Couples who are going to be looking for a visit from Mr. Stork will be interested in an announcement today of Dr. A. A. Aita, San Antonio Community hospital superintendent.

"We will deduct $15 from the hospital bill of the parents of the first child born in 1938 in the hospital," he said. This is an increase of $5 over the amount deducted from the maternity bill to the first 1937 baby.

It is likely various Upland firms will be interested in giving an impressive welcome to the first infant. From time to time The Upland News will announce additional gifts for the baby and its parents.

Dr. Aita explained that the hospital would make the deduction providing the parents reside within Chaffey district.

Much interest was shown when Mr. and Mrs. Loren Sampson won the gifts for the first 1937 baby.

$20,000 SHARED WITH EMPLOYES

Local Workers at Hotpoint Factory Given Money in Profit Division

Twenty thousand dollers extra were in the pay envelopes today of 530 employes of the General Electric Co. "Hotpoint" plant in Ontario, many of whom live in the Upland district.

While the additional money is paid just before Christmas it is not labeled a holiday bonus. On the other hand, it is money coming to the employes who participate in the company's profit-sharing program. This is the second payment in 1937. Payments are based on each employe's length of service with the company and each one's pay scale.

The same profit-sharing plan is in effect throughout the company's plants in various parts of the country.

Christmas Cards Done in Braille By Miss Houghton

Miss Daisy Houghton of 268 North First avenue, who has made a number of valuable braille translations in the past few years, doing the work as a Red Cross project for the blind, recently made an unusual contribution to the Red Cross braille collection.

A letter just received by Miss Houghton from Mrs. Mable E. Axline, assistant to the national director of volunteer special service for the Pacific branch, reveals the nature of Miss Houghton's latest work.

The letter in part reads:

"We have just received your brailled Christmas cards and are delighted with them. They are just right. The envelopes also are attractive and artistic, as well as being nice for the blind, because they will be able to feel the outline of the Christmas trees, candles, etc. We are sending them to our junior department today to be forwarded to one of the state schools for the blind. Both the children and the adults will appreciate them so much.

"Many thanks again for your interest in the braille work. You are giving much happiness through this service."

Junior High Five Wins Two Contests

Defeating Chaffey freshmen and Fontana junior high school basketball quintets this week, the Upland junior high five is continuing its undefeated record.

The frosh were defeated 17 to 13 and Fontana suffered an 11 to 7 set back. Playing on the local team were Wayne Melendrez, Bill Standlea, Ray Davis, Darwin Anderson, Howard Mitchell, Masato Okamoto, Charles Lovesee and Warren Wescott.

GAMBLING FEE IN UPLAND PROPOSED AS COUNCIL ACTS

Ordinance Licensing Bookmakers Is Proposed But Adoption Delayed

Adoption of an ordinance licensing bookmaking establishments is the intention of the Upland city councilmen, the proposal being given its first reading at the council meeting last night.

The measure, however, may not be adopted until there is an apparent need for it. The proposal is lengthy and its adoption would entail publication and other expenses. It was suggested at the meeting that its final adoption be delayed but the matter is expected to receive further attention at the January meeting of the group.

The proposed law fixes a license of $100 every three months on establishments that place bets on California horse races. It also requires the operator to pay the city a small percentage of his profits.

The county supervisors and several cities in the county are reported to be considering adoption of a similar ordinance.

Red Hill Women in Best Record of Year

Making more points in their final match than in any other during the season, women golfers of the Red Hill Country club scored 2½ points yesterday. They played the Hacienda Country club women's team on the local course.

Scores made by the local golfers follow: Mrs. B. L. Bergstrom and Mrs. C. C. Deno, 1; Mrs. Norman Springer and Mrs. Beecher Hungerford, ½; Mrs. D. R. Foss and Mrs. David Seares, ½; Mrs. Frank Nichols and Mrs. William Batcheler, ½. The Hacienda team, scoring 9½ points, won the match.

Mixed Chorus From Beulah College To Sing Next Tuesday

A convert of Christmas music will be presented by a Beulah college mixed chorus, under the direction of Raymond Niesley, Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, at the Brethren in Christ church on Third avenue at F street. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

The chorus of 21 voices will present an arrangement of anthems, carols and carol anthems. Miss Helen Rahn, soprano, and Miss Harriet Bohen, contralto, will sing the incidental solo parts. Mrs. Raymond Niesley will accompany the singers at the piano

Very Brief Interviews

Sales Tax Data Accurate

Charles Beecroft, local auditor for the state board of equalization, said that all firms in this district give him splendid cooperation. It is his job to check records of retail stores.

"Apparently there is a sincere desire on the part of the store managers to accurately give an accounting of all taxable business," he said. "In general the records are good. The sales tax is apparently a popular one.

"A new ruling requires new firms to give security. Firms that are delinquent in reporting on taxable business also are required to post a bond."

Mr. Beecroft is at his office in the Mehl Hardware Co. every morning until 10.

200 Are Fingerprinted

Jack Rea, president-elect of the Upland 20-30 club, reported today that 200 personal identification fingerprint cards have been issued by the club since the beginning of its recent campaign.

"Fingerprints have been taken of Upland junior high school students by Vernon Shiflett. Early in the year he will give the students at the Fannie D. Noe school an opportunity to be fingerprinted."

Accident Figures

In the consideration of the need of traffic guards at school crossings, Upland city officials have received the following figures from the national safety council:

During last year 8,500 children between the ages of 5 and 14 years were killed in the United States. Of these 18 per cent were killed within school rooms; 17 per cent on school grounds; 7 per cent on way to or from school and 58 per cent otherwise.

E. C. Mehl, chief of police, estimated that at this rate and on the bascis of the city's population, one youth in every 40 years would be killed in Upland while going to or returning from school.

Horsch Will Attend Two Conventions in East During Holiday

L. J. Horsch, representing Chaffey junior college, will leave tomorrow to attend two national conventions during the Christmas holidays. At Oxford, Ohio, he will attend the national convention of the Christian Student Associations of American Colleges and Universities. He will not only represent Chaffey at this event but also the junior colleges in Southern California.

At Chicago he will attend the convention of Teachers of German in America. He will go from here to New Orleans and then on to Washington, D. C., he never having been n either city.

Mrs. Horsch and family will spend the holiday with a cousin, Roland von der Smissen, in Ely, Nevada.

Orchestra Wins Ovation And Soloist Is Acclaimed

Climaxing the colorful and successful concert by the Chaffey Symphony orchestra last night was the debut of Miss Bettina Duncan as featured soloist.

Choosing Mozart's Concerto in C Major for piano and orchestra for his initial appearance, Miss Duncan amazed and thrilled the audience with her brilliant interpretation of its three movements.

Acknowledging with girlish dignity the ovation accorded her upon her appearance on the platform, she immediately impressed her listeners with the extent of her mastery of the composition by her perfection of technique in bringing out the majestic dignity of the first movement. In the slower Andante movement the graceful melody tones of the piano were expertly interwoven with the accompanying orchestration with a rhythm and precision worthy of more experienced artists.

It was in the perfection of Miss Duncan's rendition of the very difficult, very rapid third movement, the Allegro vivace, that won for her the admiring appreciation of her audience. This was especially sincere because of the realization of the remarkable fact that Miss Duncan played the entire composition with the orchestra from memory, never having before her during the half hour performance a score of the composition.

The Chaffey Symphony orchestra, directed by Ralph Streano, is composed of 60 young musicians, all students at Chaffey high school and junior college. They presented a very colorful and pleasing appearance, the girls wearing beautiful formals in varying colors to suit their individual tastes, and the young men appearing in tuxedos.

Seldom, perhaps, has a symphony organization been received with more sympathy and appreciation than was this group of talented young people. Each young musician was, without doubt, represented by a family group in the audience, vitally interested in the success of the performance.

Contrasting pleasantly with the formality of the symphony orchestra, the girls' glee club octette, dressed in early English costumes of the Troubadors and in the dim light of a candle, sang traditiona Christmas carols.

The new orchestra director, Ralph Streano, was very fittingly introduced to the audience by Norman S. Lawson, vice-president of the Chaffey board of education. Mr. Lawson said Mr. Streano comes with an enviable record of musicianship, having been a member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra and for many years a professional musician of the highest type.

Additional information about the concert and the orchestra personnel are in a story on page three.

POST OFFICE ON LONGER HOURS AS MAIL HITS RECORD

Upland Office Will Be Open All Day Saturday to Handle Parcels

A record volume of mail is being handled at the Upland post office and to assist local people the office will be open until 6 p. m. tomorrow. The Saturday closing hour is usually 1 p. m.

Stamp sales so far this month are ahead of the total at this time a year ago with "every indication of next week's business establishing an impressive all-time record," Postmaster Orton P. Brady said today.

Commending local people for mailing early and carefully wrapping their packages, Mr. Brady said that every effort is made to get parcels to outgoing trains at the earliest opportunity. Christmas cards, parcels and all other mail are on their way within a short time after they are left at the Upland post office. For example, Mr. Brady said, all mail posted before 6 p. m. tomorrow will be on outgoing trains within two hours. At the same time mail clerks and carriers are delivering to Uplanders all incoming mail as fast as it is received.

Concerning Christmas eve deliveries the postmaster said all Yule mail will be delivered before local postal employes stop to enjoy the holiday.

Through the years the local mail men have been trained to handle the Christmas mail with the greatest possible accuracy. The task this year, however, is the greatest ever experienced with more mail being sent out and more mail being received for distribution.

An appeal is being made for as many persons as possible to do business at the post office tomorrow afternoon.

FLOOD SUFFERERS IN NEED OF HELP

Red Cross Asking Subscriptions to Help Victims in Northern California

Pacific branch of the American Red Cross has sent out an appeal for cash to help the victims of the recent floods in Northern California. There has been no quota set for the Upland Red Cross chapter, but $30,000 is asked of the state at this time. In all probability there will have to be another call for cash subscriptions.

Especially at Downieville, Sierra county, is financial help needed immediately. Homes have been washed away and a number of others were rendered unsafe by the torrential rains in that and other districts. Cash is needed with which to purchase needed supplies. While the Downieville project assumes greater proportions from the standpoint of building and restoring homes, many other localities have emergency relief situations that are being met by Red Cross chapters.

Cash donations are need. Contributions may be left at either of the Upland banks.

Roy Freeman, Kin of Highway Patrol Head, Is Claimed by Death

Succumbing to a sudden heart attack, Roy Freeman passed away last night at 7 o'clock at his home, 478 North Archibald avenue, Cucamonga.

Mr. Freeman, who had resided in Cucamonga for 33 years, was a brother of Frank J. Freeman of Cucamonga, captain of the county unit of the state highway patrol. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. O. W. Freeman, and a sister, Mrs. Ray R. Ford, both of Cucamonga. He was a native of Maine and was 53 years of age. He was a stationary engineer, but recently had been engaged in ranching and was well known throughout the West End.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at Draper's Ontario chapel, with the Rev. Wm. A. Tieck, pastor of the Cucamonga Community church, officiating. Interment will take place in Bellevue cemetery.

Ninth Grade Issue May Be Decided Joint Board Meet

C. K. Shell Victim Of Accident That May Cost His Eye

With the sight of his left eye at stake, Chas. K. Shell of West street is under treatment in the Pomona Valley hospital in Pomona, and probably will remain there for the next four weeks.

Mr. Shell was injured several days ago while working as a plasterer on the packing house being erected at Oxnard by Contractor Clyde Jones of Upland. A large portion of wet plastering material fell for some distance, striking Mr. Shell in the face and gravely injuring his eye.

At present there is no sight in Mr. Shell's eye, due to an accumulation of fluid between separated tissues behind the eye. Only time can reveal the extent of the injury and in the meantime Mr. Shell is being kept very still at the hospital, not being permitted to move his head. The physicians in charge have some hope that the obstructing fluid may in time be absorbed and the sight of the eye restored.

Frank Gingerich of Upland has the plastering contract for the Oxnard building.

UPLAND, CHAFFEY OFFICIALS TO ACT SOON ON QUESTION

Expected to be settled at a joint meeting of the Upland board of education and the Chaffey board is the question as to where the Upland ninth grade students will attend school.

Spokesman for the Chaffey board said today the joint session would be held either Saturday or Monday. Under consideration is whether to have the ninth graders handled at the Upland junior high school or on the Chaffey campus. In any event, the change would not be effective until next September, board members indicated. Chaffey board members are on record favoring the transfer of the Upland ninth graders to the high school campus.

While some local parents oppose the change, others favor the move. The Upland board is not on record either favoring or opposing the proposal. The situation was discussed at a meeting of the local board this week. A letter asking the Chaffey board for an early decision on the matter was sent following the local board session.

Superintendent Gardiner W. Spring of Chaffey said this morning he is endeavoring to contact the Chaffey board members in an effort to arrange for a joint session.

Until this question is settled, the local board can not complete its plans for the new elementary school building. If the ninth grade is changed to the Chaffey campus, according to the announced plan, the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be handled at the junior high school building. This change would leave the first five grades and the kindergarten at the new elementary building. Additional facilities, such as a cafeteria, may be placed in the new building rather than a class room, if the change is made, school officials said.

Both boards of education, however, have expressed a desire to act in accordance with the taxpayers' wishes.

Alumni Association Of Beulah College Meets for Program

Beulah College Alumni association held a joint business and social meeting in Podrasnik library on Tuesday evening, with several interesting features being enjoyed.

The recent recognition of Beulah college as a fully accredited junior college was discussed by Dr. Henry G. Brubaker, president of the college.

Erlis Guengerich, Beulah college alumnus of 1925, and now a successful Iowa farmer, reviewed the economic situation in the light of agricultural interests in his community.

A contest based on recognition of authorship of quotations from literature was won by the Misses Esther Abel and Gladys Bohen.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

There is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord."—Luke 2:11.

Honest Labor Can Remedy Things

It is generally admitted that the labor situation throughout the country is not just what it should be and that there are things that should be remedied. There are many thousands of sincerely honest workmen in unions and there are some of the other kind. The same is true of workmen who do not belong to any union. We have no fault to find with unions that are run on a fair and honest basis—but it must be admitted that there are instances where racketeers have gotten into some unions. They are there to take any unfair advantage they can of employers and to fill their own pockets as a result of the soft jobs they hold. Laborers and industry should deal with each other in a fair and open manner, that the best interests of both may be served. In discussing the labor situation, the LaHabra Star says:

"Honest labor has on its hands the problem of keeping unionism from being a racket, and from becoming a burden on industry which the latter cannot support.

"Honest labor is that which believes in giving an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. Honest labor is that which also see in the job something more than a means to livelihood. Honest labor takes pride in its work, accepts some of the responsibility for the success of business, and is willing to bear its fair share of the total economic load of the nation.

"To this sort of honest labor nobody rightfully can deny the right to organize, and to bargain collectively.

"The chief dangers are that such organizing and bargaining will have as their main objective the building of financial and political control for a small group, and that the organization effort will be carried to an extreme which will break small business, increase unemployment and throw an undue proportion of the economic load onto shoulders which cannot support it.

"It is the hope of radicals that just this result will be obtained. Those who want to overthrow our present form of government and set up some sort of an 'ism' government, modeled on European lines, know that the best way to do it is to break down business and the economic structure. Revolution of some sort is bound to follow such a break-down. Then the radicals have their chance.

"It is up to honest labor to see that this does not happen. The hardest fight ahead is within the ranks of labor itself. If honest labor does not master the situation it will later on find itself in a much worse state than it ever was before.

"In the long run we must be honest and conscientious for our own sakes."

The recent instance in Los Angeles wherein an effort was made to stop deliveries from the large stores just when the Christmas rush was beginning is a case of unfair tactics. It brought a storm of protest not only from the stores, but also from residents of the city as a whole. By popular resentment the move was defeated.

While the labor unions should use fair tactics in their operation and also be fair in their demands, the same also applies to those who hire help. We do not believe there are many employers who do not desire to pay such wages that enable employes and their families to live in comfort and enjoy the good things of life. Whether a laborer belongs to a union or not he is entitled to fair treatment and the right to make an honest and comfortable living.

And the best way to accomplish the desired condition is for workers and employes to discuss their problems together and each in a tolerant mood toward the other.

—o—

Have you got that Christmas spirit yet? That great day is nearly here—and this is the season that the hardest of hearts is softened and he wishes to remember friends and relatives with a gift and a hearty good wish for the year that will soon dawn. True—everyone cannot buy expensive presents. But it does not take a costly gift to convey what the heart feels toward a friend—it's the genuineness of spirit in which it is given.

—o—

And now they are calling it a "business recession." As it appears to us, there has already been too long a "recess" for several millions who would like to be working.

Letters to The News

Flowers For the Living

Some time ago The News was giving flowers to people of our fair city in recognition of good works done, which was a lovely thing to do. I am sorry it has been discontinued, but I am glad we can still give words of praise through The News to those deserving the same—and I think that there is one man in our city who deserves a great deal of praise and that man is the Rev. Hostetler of the Mennonite church. This will seem strange to some people in our city coming from a Methodist, but after working with him and knowing what he has done I feel it is only right. The Rev. Hostetler has started something in this city that would be a credit to any large city in America. I mean the Upland Oratorio society and I am sure all those who heard the rendering of Handel's "Messiah" at the Upland Mennonite church and also at the First M. E. church in Ontario on Sunday will agree with me that it was well worth while and the work of the society is something that any city should be proud of and a credit to any city—and all this because of the untiring efforts of Rev. Hostetler who is making many a sacrifice to put on something of the better things of life, something that is uplifting spiritually and musically. Looking forward into the future he is able to do this with the wonderful cooperation of his church board, who should also be praised for making it possible for the society to meet and use the church without any expense to them.

The society is made up of people who love to sing, who love to do something worth while and try to bring before the public the better things and the good works of the masters. I feel sure that the society is worthy of the full support of all the Christian people and all the churches of our community and also of all good citizens of our city.

Personally I feel that with the cooperation of the churches and music loving people and the talented singers in our community who are perhaps rusting out now we could have our oratorio society in Upland second to none. We can use more good singers, some tenors and sopranos. We are planning to put on on Palm Sunday "The Seven Last Words of Christ" and a little later "The Creation" by Haydn. Rehearsals will start Tuesday evening, Feb. 1. I know after reading my name at the bottom some of you will say, "My, how he toots his own horn," but I am just a small pea in the pod. I sincerely feel about this as I have written. The society is made up of all denominations—singers from all churches—and it should be supported by the churches in every way, and if this is done I feel sure we can make Upland famous in a musical way.

Bert Hendy,
Vice President.

NEUTRAL THOUSANDS SPEAKER IS HEARD

Local Women Attend Meeting Of Group Seeking End To Labor Strife

A number of Upland residents attended the luncheon and women's mass meeting held Monday at the Community club in Pomona, 150 women from many points in Pomona valley being present.

The meeting was sponsored by The Neutral Thousands, an organization of California women, which has as its sole purpose the combatting of the wave of industrial disaster that threatens to overwhelm the state. The founder and executive director of the organization, Mrs. Bessie Abbott Ochs, was the speaker, and she explained the purpose of the rapidly growing organization and told of the work being done in many places, including the citrus districts in Pomona valley, to promote independent unions, in which the employes may deal directly and harmoniously with employers concerning labor matters.

Women, Children Victims

In any strife between men, either in war or labor troubles, Mrs. Ochs stated, the women and children suffer, yet have no voice in the decisions.

The Neutral Thousands, organized only two months ago and having a membership of more than 80,000, aims to instruct women as to the rights of labor and capital and to place the full strength of the organization behind independent unions.

"T. N. T." Represents Slogan

The Neutral Thousands' motto is "T. N. T.—Truth Not Terror", and the organization advocates:

The substitution of the conference table for lock-outs or strikes.

The right of the public to be represented in all collective bargaining.

The right of every man and woman to work.

The establishment of reasonable hours and happy working conditions.

The payment by employers of good living wages during employment.

The payment by unions of good living wages to strikers' wives who have children to feed, if strikes are called.

Among those from Upland attending the meeting in Pomona were Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. Una R. Winter, Mrs. Bess K. Grisham, Mrs. S. L. Kinnan, Mrs. F. C. Buffington, and Mrs. Harry Plum.

Cutting of Yule Trees Prohibited

"No permits will be issued by the forest service for the cutting of Christmas trees on public lands within the San Bernardino national forest," writes William V. Jones, forest supervisor in charge of that national unit.

Jones points out that this is merely a continuation of the policy adopted several years ago when, because of the immense demand for Christmas tree greenery, its adoption was necessary to protect tree growth in the San Bernardino mountains and the San Jacinto area.

$20,000 AWARDED HAMILTONS DUE TO CRITICAL INJURY

Youth Given $15,000 and Parents Get $5,000 in 1936 Accident

Twenty thousand dollars has been awarded as damages to Jack Hamilton and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hamilton.

A few days more than a year ago the Upland junior high school youth suffered a fractured skull. For nearly six weeks he lay deathly still, unconscious, in the San Antonio Community hospital. Steady improvement was noted when he returned to consciousness and within a short time he was removed to the home of his parents, Euclid avenue and Twenty-fourth street.

A damage suit, asking $59,000 was filed. In an out-of-court settlement this week the parents were awarded $5,000 to cover medical and hospital costs. The youth was awarded $15,000 to compensate him for his injuries.

The suit was filed against the Upland board of education. The insurance company writing the insurance for the local board has made arrangements for payment of the sum, according to the parents.

A business meeting was held by the Upland 20-30 club in the Upland Inn Tuesday night, President Virgil Rogers presiding. Announcement was made of the district educational meeting for officers to be held in Pomona Sunday.

Plans were outlined for the semi-annual installation party to be held Dec. 28. Former club members, active members and women guests will be present to see the recently elected officers installed.

Guests at the Tuesday meeting included Don Jamison, president of the Ontario 20-30 club, and DeVon Francisco.

Spanish Students Make Yule Scenes

Students of Miss Ina Wynne's Spanish classes at Chaffey high school have arranged a "Nacimeiento," or Nativity group which is typical in Spain and Spanish America. This is the tenth year that her classes have followed this Spanish custom during the week preceding Christmas vacation.

The pupils have reproduced the traditional scene of the manger, with the Holy Family, shepherds, and gleaming star. In the background is a miniature Jerusalem, with the sea and hills. The entire scene is placed in a bower of greenery. Miss Vesta Wisely and Morris Lusk assisted with the arrangements.

WELFARE SHOP IN APPEAL FOR STOCK

All Kinds of Clothing Badly Needed to Meet Calls Being Made

The welfare shop is badly in need of additional stock.

To those persons who have plenty of warm clothing, underwear and top coats, the prevailing "snappy" mornings when the temperature ranges down into the 30's, are very pleasant. But thinly clad children, women without wraps, and men wearing overalls without underwear, do not find it so comfortable.

Many such people are calling at the Welfare shop and asking for badly needed garments, only to be shown a much depleted stock, often without the articls called for.

The shop, operated by the Upland Junior Welfare League to aid those who cannot purchase new garments, depends for its stock upon the cooperation of local residents who are willing to aid in welfare work by contributing their discarded clothing.

There are, without doubt, many persons in Upland who could go through their wardrobes and find various articles of clothing they will never wear again. It is such garments the Welfare shop is asking for.

All kinds of clothing for men, women and children will be received with gratitude. Especially is there need at present for children's clothing, dresses, underwear, wraps, shoes and stockings. When real winter weather sets in many children may be subject to exposure and illness, unless their parents can obtain clothing at the Welfare shop.

Many persons in trying circumstances will come to the shop and purchase clothing for a few cents a garment, when they will not ask for direct aid.

The young women of the Junior Welfare League are endeavoring to assist such people, as well as others who are entirely without funds, and they earnestly solicit support from all who can make donations of used clothing, furniture or other discarded household articles.

"True Confession" Opens at Fox Pomona on Sunday

Scheduled for a Sunday opening at the Fox theatre in Pomona, "True Confession" joins the large group of Carole Lombard hit comedies with Fred McMurray and John Barrymore in support of the blonde star. Also showing is the preview feature, "Thank You, Mr. Moto," with Peter Lorre.

Showing for the final times Saturday night at the Fox, with a midnight show, is "Second Honeymoon," with Tyrone Power and Loretta Young, and "Lancer Spy," with Dolores Del Rio and George Sanders.

Woman's Club Enjoys Christmas Program And Luncheon

A program of exceptional beauty and charm was presented for the pleasure of members of the Upland Woman's club Tuesday when Elora Sornsen, singer and story-teller, entertained with her unique program, "Christmas in Many Lands."

The meeting opened at 12:30 with an excellent luncheon served by Mrs. Harold W. Cook and her December committee.

The tables, at which more than 80 club members and several guests were served, bore artistic decorations of red berries and candles. Decorations for the auditorium included a sparkling Christmas tree.

Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood, club president, presided during the meeting. A brief routine business session was held and reports of the recent Southern District convention were given. Mrs. O. A. Thompson, Mrs. J. Emery Sargent and Mrs. John Scott each gave interesting accounts of particular phases of the convention and Mrs. Sherwood concluded the reports with general comments on the several days sessions.

In a collection of individual contributions a fund of $14 was raised as the club's donation to the Red Cross Christmas baskets.

Presented by Mrs. J. Emery Sargent, program chairman, Miss Sornsen and her accompanist, John Hopper, proceeded to delight the audience with their beautiful selections.

Miss Sornsen, wearing beautiful costumes representative of each country she discussed, gave vivid descriptions of the Christmas celebrations and costumes followed in many lands, telling the origin of their customs, many quaint and beautiful, and relating some amusing superstitions. Miss Sornsen possesses a charming personality and she tells her stories in a fascinating manner, completing each group by singing the Christmas songs popular in that country.

Her program was concluded with a beautiful Nativity scene in which she, as the Madonna, sang a soft lullaby as she sat beside the Christ child in a cradle.

In addition to accompanying the singer, Mr. Hopper, a talented and nationally known pianist, played several solo numbers during interludes in Miss Sornsen's program. One group included a number of well loved Christmas carols and was concluded with "Silent Night." Mr. Hopper is an artist in his own right and his playing delighted the club women.

This meeting is the only one scheduled for December, the next meeting coming on Jan. 11.

Special Program Is Held As Benefit by Men's Church Class

Meeting of the Men's class of the First Methodist church, held in Fellowship hall last evening, was featured by a diversified and most enjoyable program, a number of entertainers and speakers being presented.

Prof. Wiley W. Mather gave an especially interesting talk on the present day status of religion in the various countries of the world.

WARNING GIVEN ON LIGHTING OF TREE

Guard Against Fire, Is Plea of Local Inspector to Families

"Be careful in the illumination of Christmas trees."

That is the warning today of Richard Derby, building inspector and assistant city engineer, who has just received a statement from the International Association of Electric Inspectors.

"It should be borne in mind that fires and accidents occur with the use of electric lights," Mr. Derby said. He urges all local people to follow a few simple rules so that no tragedies will mar the joy of Christmas in this community.

"It should be realized, Mr. Derby continued, "that Christmas trees sets are not of such quality that they will last forever. In any case, lighting sets should be carefully examined before they are put on the tree. See that the insulation of all wires is intact, and that insulation is not pulled back where the wires enter the sockets, so as to expose the copper conductors. If such weaknesses are discovered, the set should be discarded

"See also that when the lamps are screwed into the sockets no 'live' metal is exposed. When lamp bases are too long or sockets too short, metal is left exposed which may make contact with tinsel or metal reflectors. Short circuits caused in this way resulted in a number of fires throughout the country last year. Precautions regarding the condition of insulation should be applied with even more diligence in the case of wires used for decorating trees out of doors, because shock hazard is greatly increased in the presence of damp earth. In preparing outside decorations for the first time, it is well to have a competent electrician prepare the lighting set. Indoor sets are not suitable for use out of doors.

"If children are to be given electrical toys at Christmas for connection directly to the house circuit, parents should expect to make careful inspection of their condition so long as they are in use. Particular attention should be paid to the quality and condition of atachment cords. If cords become worn, they should be replaced or removed before there is possibility of 'live' conductors being exposed. These wires are particularly subject to wear at the point where they enter the toy."

Advance Bible Class Spends Day Sewing On Choir Robes

Dispensing with the usual social features of their monthly meeting, members of the Advance Bible class met in Fellowship hall of the Methodist church Thursday and spent the day working on new robes for the church choir.

The members gathered at the church at 9 o'clock and worked until late in the afternoon, pausing at noon only long enough to eat their box lunches. Hot coffee was served by the hostesses.

The robes, being made from material purchased by the Woman's Aid society, are to be worn by the choir when the singers present a Christmas cantata at the church Sunday evening.

No business session was held by the Advance Bible class, but during an informal discussion as they sewed the members made plans for contributing white gifts for Christmas welfare giving.

Upland Speaker Will Represent California in National Semi-Finals

To climax a brilliant career at Chaffey high school, Leslie Standlea of Upland will represent California Future Farmers in the semi-finals of a national oratorical contest next spring. He won the California oratorical contest Wednesday night for the right to represent the state in the western region semi-finals. He won the Southern California contest last month. In competition with five other student orators Standlea won the state contest which was held in connection with the Great Western Livestock show in Los Angeles.

His subject was "What Chemergy Has to Offer the Farmer."

Coached by Miss Lois LeBaron Avery, Standlea is the fifth Chaffey student in eight years to win the California contest.

As the result of this week's victory he will speak in Fort Collins, Colorado, next June in competition with winners in 10 other western states. Winners of that contest will compete in the national finals in Kansas City.

Annually the Future Farmers of America bring together their best speaking talent. Each state holds contests and through a process of elimination the pick of all parts of the country are placed in competition at Kansas City.

Standlea, a senior at Chaffey, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Standlea, East Ninth street. He is president of the Chaffey chapter of the Future Farmers.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

CHRISTIAN YOUTH COUNCIL FORMED

Young People of West End To Coordinate Efforts in Christian Living

Organization of the Christian Youth Council of the Chaffey district was completed during the first business session held Tuesday evening at the Cucamonga Community church, the constitution being adopted and an executive committee elected.

The committee submitting the proposed constitution included Miss Irene Kennedy of the Upland Nazarene church; Henry Buller, First Mennonite church of Upland, and Everett Johnson of the Temple Baptist church in Ontario.

The executive committee, as elected, includes Bob Cary of the Ontario First Methodist, president; Eugene Zimmerman, Evangelical, vice-president; Miss Mary Dutton, First Baptist, secretary, and Henry Buller, First Mennonite, treasurer.

It was voted to accept two representatives from each church in the Chaffey community and also two representatives from each Christian youth organization outside the churches.

The objectives of the organization were set forth as follows:

Stating Christian youths' stand on current and moral issues.

To improve moral and spiritual standards through a united effort.

Rally Christian youth of the community.

Wage world peace.

Cooperate with schools in enlisting youth.

The executive committee of the council will meet Monday, Dec. 20, at 7:30, at Ontario Methodist church and will appoint chairmen for several committees.

The churches and organizations represented were the First Evangelical, Fontana Community, Congregational, First Methodist of Upland, First Methodist of Ontario, Temple Baptist, First Baptist, First Mennonite, Cucamonga Community and the Chaffey junior college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The executive committee will arrange for and announce the next meeting in the near future.

Christmas Play Is Given by Jr. High P.-T. A., Students

Sponsored by the Junior High Parent-Teacher association, with the cooperation of the teachers, a Christmas play, "The Saint," was successfully presented Tuesday evening in the school auditorium by a cast of 25 students.

The auditorium was filled with parents and friends who gathered to enjoy the student production and the youthful actors won high commendation for their performance.

The play told a beautiful story of unselfish giving and the presentation was accompanied by the singing of a number of number of Christmas carols, with the audience joining in singing "Silent Night."

The program was opened by the junior high orchestra, Chas. B. Jones director, the members played being "Simplicity," a march by Loos; "Sweet Dream" (Zamecnik), and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" (Mendelssohn).

Several selections, including old French carols and other numbers were sung by the ninth grade girls chorus directed by Miss Evelyn Cross.

The cast was directed by Miss Adelaide Locher and Miss Sybil Rayburn, while George A. Barber was stage manager.

At the conclusion of the program the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. George West Barrett, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church.

Bookmaking License May Be Set in County

This county may have an ordinance licensing horse race bookmakers.

District Attorney Jerome B. Kavanaugh was asked by the county supervisors this week to prepare an ordinance fixing a fee for operation of the establishments.

The only race horse booking establishment in the county is reported to be on Valley boulevard near Central avenue.

The length of Broadway within the city limits of Greater New York, is 15½ miles.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

P.-T. A. Enjoys Program

Motion pictures of Boulder dam and of Death Valley, made by Ernest Tweed Stone during a motor trip last spring, were shown by Mr. Stone at the meeting of the Alta Loma Parent-Teacher association held Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The subject matter of the pictures is well chosen, especially in those dealing with Death Valley, where many unusual scenes are shown. The pictures were greatly enjoyed by the P.-T. A. audience.

Another interesting feature of the program was a talk by Miss Hester McKay, county rural school nurse, who told of her work in the 10 schools under her supervision.

Miss McKay especially stressed the importance of prevention of disease and she advocated regular visits to a physician for physical examination as one means of obtaining and keeping perfect health.

In discussing preventive measures, Miss McKay warned against contamination of food by flies, which she termed one of the greatest menaces to health. She also urged care in preventing the spread of germs by persons affected by colds or other contageous diseases. The nurse also strongly advocated vaccination for smallpox and diphtheria, saying that vaccination is the only method by which epidemics of such diseases may be prevented.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Clifford Beekman, president, conducted a brief business session, during which announcement was made that the sum of $30 was cleared on the recent harvest dinner given by the association. The money will be used for the association expenses during the year.

The comfort room equipped by the P.-T. A. for the benefit of any pupils or teachers who may become ill, has been completed and those attending the meeting were invited to inspect the room.

The one dollar attendance award was won by Mrs. Margaret Cantley's room.

A tea hour closed the meeting with the sixth grade mothers being hostesses, the committee including Mrs. Rupert Dishman and Mrs. Wilbur Minor.

The city election is scheduled for April.

New Magazine Is Holding Interest Of Upland Group

A new picture publication, Rising Tide, is now on news stands all over America. It is also being printed in nine other countries, and in eight other languages. The magazine attempts to interpret for the public a movement spreading over 50 countries of the world whose purpose is to bring a spirit of honesty and unselfishness into everyday life.

The first pages show "The Amazing World," with dramatic presentations of the modern inventions and human forces. Skyscrapers, "speedburners," homerun kings, streamliners, great dams and clipper ships, help to dramatize the forces of the day.

Then it moves on to currents of national life with a Nazi military revue, armored cars parading through the Red Square, the Chiang Kai Checks, the British fleet and others.

The next page is one of horrors caused by pride, fear, selfishness, greed and hate. This section shows poverty, gangsters, the killed and maimed of war. This part of the magazine ends with a picture of a deserted council table, with the title "Human Wisdom Has Failed."

But here it begins to present what its editors, who are associates of the Oxford Group Movement, "A Rsing Tide of Men and Women . . . . . who are convinced that if you want an answer for the world today, the best place to start is with yourself." We begin to see statesmen, industrialists, labor leaders and the every day people of all walks of life who claim that the spirit of "God Guidance" is making them better citizens of their country and of the world.

In America we see a complete representation from the life of the country in pictures of "God Controlled" people who it is said have given "their lives to forge in fact Lincoln's prophecy 'that under God this nation shall have a new birth of freedom'".

With a picture of a fire-swept cathedral comes the caption "The Answer to Burning Churches is the Church Aflame" and there are statements from Catholic and Protestant leaders of the flaming spirit of Christ that is being brought afresh to thousands.

"The forgotten factor in industry is that God has a plan. The problem of industry is the problem of the men who compose it. "Only as a new spirit comes to men can a true destiny come to industry," says the Rising Tide. One page pictures "What happened in one mill" when the owner started to listen to God. A photographic story tells what happened on a farm when the farmer and his family put their lives at God's disposal.

In the industrial section we find pictures and stories of the new life of many individuals who because of their change have brought new conditions to their particular sector. A boiler room engineer and a colored member of his crew tell of new relationships. A union official tells of a new sense of responsibility, and an executive tells of the change from lack of sincerity to honesty in his dealings with his men.

The publication is composed of 52 pages. There was no paid editorial staff, no paid advertising, it is non-profit, and the financial backing has been furnished by all types of men and women, say the editors.

Following a section on the spiritual foundation for health, which includes Dr. Frank J. Sladen, physician-in-chief of the Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, and Dr. Hugh R. Leavell, health director in Louisville during the flood, is the publication's final section on the home and family. "Defeat in the home, disaster in the world," runs one page while the next is headed "Faith in the home, Security in the Nation."

A photoessay entitled "Bill and Mary, and How They Turned the Tide" is composed of "picture pages from a husband's diary." This shows how a husband, wife and child find a new way of life.

Local interest in the pictorial was shown at a meeting held last Friday at Claremont. Among Upland people interested in promoting the distribution and circulation of the Rising Tide are: Mrs. Fannie W. Gay, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gibson, Mrs. Don Palmer, Mrs. Philip White, Mrs. E. E. Gray, Mrs. Evelyn Miller, Mrs. Alice Dunlap, Mrs. Nora Bells, Mrs. Maude Tuntland, Mrs. D. E. Myers, Mrs. Frank C. Buffington.

Etiwanda

ETIWANDA, Dec. 17. — The fourth section of the Ladies Aid society held a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. A. A. Werner Wednesday evening to formulate plans for their final effort, an entertainment which will be given in Cypress hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, and for which tickets will be on sale the end of this week. The first section for next year's work met at the home of Mrs. J. S. Johnson to organize for their three months session. Mrs. Lawrence Mueller will serve as chairman of that committee.

W. G. Pearson, who has been ill with pneumonia in the St. Bernardine's hospital, is steadily improving and they hoped to bring him home today.

Mrs. Wm. Falder and son Leo of Los Angeles, former residents here, were guests of Mrs. H. A. Allen Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary W. Kemp, who is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Jacques and family, at Van Nuys, was out for the week end at her home here.

Eleanor Werner came home from Berkeley Tuesday to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Werner.

Mrs. Ulrey of Oroville returned home the first of the week after a few days spent with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dickins.

The Etiwanda Grammar school is preparing a Christmas program to be given Friday, marking the closing of school for the holiday season.

A special Christmas program will be given by the Etiwanda Community church Sunday morning. Sermon by Rev. Harold V. Hartshorn, "The Christmas Story." "Cantique to Noel," by the combined ladies and young people's chorus, and "Christmastide" by the latter group. Piano prelude, Mrs. Thomas Donnelly and Frederick Donnelly. Offertory, Sara Jean Donnelly.

The annual community Christmas entertainment will be held at the church Christmas eve, to which all are invited. Subscription list at Frost Brothers store for those wishing to contribute.

CHAFFEY DEFEATS LONG BEACH AND STAYS IN TOURNEY

Tigers Play Fast Whittier Squad Tomorrow—Olinger Scores Most

Playing brilliant basketball the Chaffey Tigers defeated Long Beach polytechnic high school five yesterday afternoon to remain in the Huntington Beach tourney. The score was 26 to 22, the Tigers finishing in fast style to come from behind.

Ahead is a game with Whittier at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow. Whittier defeated Redondo 65 to 36 yesterday to display its power and scoring ability. Four of the five championship players of last year's team make up the present Whittier squad.

Vane Olinger took top scoring honors in Chaffey's game, the Tiger guard shooting 12 points. At half time Long Beach was leading 8 to 7. With the start of the second half, Coach Karl Kaiser's men began tossing 'em in. The lead changed many times but in the last few minutes Chaffey remained out in front. The Tiger squad and the scoring record follow:

Forwards—Cardin 2; Tucker, 4; Poindexter, 5; centers—Latimer, 0; Hargrave, 2; guards—Olinger, 12; Hofer, 1. z

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

Club Women Hear Address

Some of the many interesting secrets Nature will reveal to those who care to "stop, look and listen," were told to members of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club Thursday afternoon during the club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Agnes B. Hawkey in Alta Loma, the guest speaker being Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor emeritus of the Upland Presbyterian church.

The meeting opened with a short business session conducted by Mrs. Francis S. Wagner, club president, and Mrs. W. H. Powelson gave a report of the Christmas boxes sent by the club to the Monte Vista home for women at San Bernardino.

The club women are preparing to organize an arts and crafts section and Mrs. Wagner appointed Mrs. Powelson to serve as chairman of the new section.

Mrs. Harry M. Wright, program chairman, presented Dr. Stone, who announced the subject of his talk as "A Walk Through the Woods." There are countless fascinating things to be learned from nature, he said, if one will slow down sufficiently to look about.

As an example, Dr. Stone gave many odd and interesting facts about the trees of California and the bird life that finds shelter in them.

In concluding his talk, Dr. Stone told of the origin of the Christmas tree and stated the fir is the real Christmas tree. He also made an inspiring talk on the spirit of Christmas and the meaning of peace on earth and goodwill to men.

The program was followed by a pleasant tea hour with Mrs. E. R. Hively and Mrs. W. B. Harvey presiding at the attractive tea table, which was graced with a bowl of beautiful red roses and red candles.

The next meeting of the club will be held in January at the home of Mrs. Harry M. Wright on Washington boulevard, Upland, and at that time Miss Esther Anderson of Upland will tell of her sojourn in Sweden last summer.

Annual Election Is Held by Alois Podrasnik Camp—Delegates Named

H. J. Clewett of San Antonio Heights was elected commander of Alois Podrasnik camp, Sons of Union Veterans, during the annual meeting held Tuesday evening in the Ontario American Legion hall. Mr. Clewett succeeds Leslie Strawn of Sierra Madre avenue, Upland, who served as commander with marked success during the past three years.

Other officers elected are Earl Riggs, senior vice-commander, and L. L. Sturges, junior vice-commander. Leslie Strawn will serve as patriotic instructor and the other appointive officers are yet to be named by Mr. Clewett.

Members of the camp council elected are C. F. Riggs, Mr. Daley and H. H. Stolte. J. C. Emes was named delegate to the next national convention, with J. Harry Stolte, alternate. Mr. Emes also was made delegate to the department convention, as was Earl Riggs. Alternates are W. E. Dean and Howard LaPlant.

At the conclusion of the meeting members of the Woman's Auxiliary served refreshments.

MRS. GORHAM WILL AGAIN HEAD CORPS

W.R.C. Christmas Dinner Held At Noon With Election Following

With some 90 members and guests, including five Sons of Veterans, in attendance, the Woman's Relief Corps held a most enjoyable Christmas dinned at noon Thursday in the Ontario Legion hall, with the annual election of officers being held in the afternoon.

During the business session Mrs. Dwight F. Gorham of Ontario, who has directed the affairs of the corps during the past year, was re-elected president.

Other officers elected are Mrs. A. M. Plasterer, senior vice-president; Mrs. R. A. Martin, junior vice-president; Mrs. Emma H. Hamilton, chaplain; Mrs. Charles Schmidt, treasurer (re-elected); Mrs. Earl Riggs, conductor, and Mrs. R. L. Backstein, guard.

The delegates selected in the order named are Mrs. A. M. Plasterer, Mrs. R. A. Martin and Mrs. Lela Baker. Alternates named are Mrs. Oran E. Burt, Mrs. R. J. Kessler and Mrs. Nora Kendall.

A most excellent turkey dinner was served at noon, the large number of attendants finding places at beautifully decorated tables.

Small snow-crested Christmas trees adorned each table, the white trees with sparkling blue ornaments being set on large reflectors and surrounded with blue candles and Santa Claus sleights pulled by reindeer.

Colorfully wrapped potted pansies were place favors for the honor guests and each of the Sons of Veterans found a key ring as his place favor.

An exchange of Christmas gifts was a pleasant feature of the dinner hour.

The committees in charge of arrangements for the very enjoyable event were accorded high praise for the success of their efforts.
